The News will receive complete returns from all precincts of Randall county and bulletins from the Texas Election Bureau. If the race for governor is as close as many estimate, it may be possible that this race will not be decided before Sunday.

JOHN McCARTY

The new book of John L. McCarty is now on sale at Warwick's.

The book is Maverick Town, the story of Old Tascosa. Pioneers of the Plains have long told weird tales of Old Tascosa, the pioneer meeting place of this area.

While a student in West Texas State, Mr. McCarty studied the history of this area and while publisher of the Dalhart Texan and later of the Amarillo Globe-News he has spent much time in research on his favorite subject.

The book is of great interest to all who read of the stirring frontier days of the Panhandle.

Tax Rate Set At a New Low

State Automatic Tax Board Eliminates the State Advalorem Tax

The automatic tax board Monday for the first time in the history of state taxation relieved Texas taxpayers completely from any general fund and valorem levy and reduced the state property tax rate to 37 cents per $100 evaluation, lowest rate since 1912.

The new rate breaks down on the basis of 35 cents per $100 valuation for available school fund purposes, maximum which can be levied under state law, and two cents for the Confederate veterans' pension fund, the amount fixed by statute.

The new 37 cent rate is a reduction from last year's 72 cents and represents an estimated saving to Texas taxpayers of $14,000,000, inclusive of remissions.

The board explained that it had no recourse except to drop the general fund tax for this year in view of the state's current excellent financial condition, the general fund rate is fixed by a statutory formula based on the difference between legislative appropriations and revenue already paid to the general fund from other sources. This year the general revenue fund is already in excess of last year's legislative appropriations.

Bible Teacher For College

Miss Eula V. Potter, newly elected

Bible teacher for West Texas State College students, is already on the job and is completing plans for the courses to be offered in September and during the coming long session at the college. The courses will include a study of the Literature and History of both the old and New Testament, a study of The Life of Christ and Founding of the Christian movement, and an advanced study of The Life and Epistles of the Apostle Paul. Not all these courses will be offered at once, but these and probably others will be offered in alternate semesters as need arises for them.

Miss Potter is a graduate of Mary-Hardin College, Belton, Texas, East Texas State Teachers College, Commerce, and of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary of Fort Worth. She is experienced as a teacher in the grades, high school and college, and came to Canyon from Goose Creek, Texas, where she was a teacher in high school and junior college. She has been a field worker in educational work among Baptist churches of Texas.

This department of college instruction is being made possible through the cooperation of The Baptist General Convention of Texas which owns and operates the building in which classes will be held and also pays the salary of Miss Potter. The recent action of the Board of Regents of the College makes possible this department, provided teacher and class room are provided by other than State funds. Regular college credit will be offered for the courses which are organized under supervision of the college authorities.

Plans announced by the Methodist denomination indicates the enlargement of the department probably in 1947 to include another teacher who will cooperate with the Baptists in the courses to thus minister to practically all the students who attend college in Canyon. These courses will be open to Canyon people as other courses are at the College where as little as one course can be taken. Additional information can be secured at the college offices.

Miss Potter and her mother live at the recently acquired Baptist Building which serves as residence, office and class room, at 2600 Fourth Avenue, immediately in front of the Administration Building. It is being remodeled to suit its new uses, and friends are invited to drop by to see it and get acquainted.

Talk on Election At Rotary Luncheon Given on Tuesday

Clyde Warwick spoke Tuesday at the luncheon of the Rotary Club reviewing some features of the election laws of Texas.

Voters are required to mark out the names of candidates whom they do not favor. This is a negative method of voting. With 14 candidates for governor, the voter must mark out the names of 13 candidates.

The ballot is not secret owing to the number placed on the ballot under the law. Yet this is the only method of keeping a check in case of a contest.

Those who have to handle elections have a real gripe at the State Democratic Committee for its expensive set up; with full time secretary; its educational director; and money that is spent in trying to elect some candidates and defeating others.

There is great inconsistency in the time for election reports and conventions; election officials must rely on returns from the Texas Election Bureau in order to get ballots ready for the second primary.

Voters are warned to look for trends, before they can determine how any election will end. These trends may begin early, or they may be late in starting.

Changes which would greatly improve elections are either the preferential primary, or the short ballot, which has been rejected a number of times by the legislature.

The speaker's conclusion was that regardless of the present candidates, their platforms and their promises, that the appointive powers of the governor is his most important function. For that reason the voter should select the candidate based on his integrity and honesty.

Visitors were: Dr. C. W. Freed, Mrs. Mary Sliger, Miss Novella Goodman, of Canyon; Claude Anderson of Oklahoma City; C. P. Harman of Crawfordville, Ark.; Rev. A. B. Haynes of Littlefield; Henry Robinson of Panhandle; Arch B. Hunsley, Eugene L. Prey, Bob Foster, Dr. J. Francis Brown, Dr. Francis W. Pritchard, all of Amarillo.

Very Heavy Vote Will Be Cast With Return of Many Veterans to Homes

Voters of Texas are ready for the first primary election which will be held on Saturday of this week. From all indications a record vote will be cast.

Only one box will be opened to the voters in Canyon, precinct one. This box will be at the new Cooper building, just across the street north from the City Hall. Owing to the number of voters expected and the length of the ballot the voting place was moved for the first primary.

It is expected that there will be a very heavy vote among ex-service men. All who have been discharged within 18 months, and are 21 years of age on election date; have lived 12 months in Texas and six months in Randall county may vote without a poll tax receipt.

Young persons who will become 21 years of age between January 31 and July 26, and meet the residence requirements, may vote without a poll tax receipt.

Citizens of Randall county who have moved here from other states after the 1st of January, 1945, provided they have lived here for one year and are 21 years of age may vote without a poll tax or exemption.

The largest crowd ever to assemble for a political rally came to the bandstand Saturday night. County candidates were heard with a great deal of interest by the voters.

Clyde W. Warwick, county chairman, presided and introduced the candidates. Those who spoke were: John R. Pool and A. H. Hunt, candidates for County Judge.

Joe H. Thompson, candidate for County Attorney.

Thomas H. Lair and A. B. Holt, candidates for County and District Clerk.

Roland S. Black and M. E. Cantrell, candidate for Sheriff, Tax Assessor and Collector.

W. H. Hamblen, G. B. Heath and L. S. Johnston, candidates for County Commissioner.

J. W. Shook, judge of the election in precinct No. 1, instructed the voters. He urged all who can to vote Saturday morning. Since absentee ballots must be counted between 2 and 3 o'clock in the afternoon, voters are requested not to come to the polls at that hour.

W. J. Fleisher closed the program with an appeal to all voters to go to the polls Saturday and select the best men and women for public office.

Old Bible Held By W. T. Oliver Uncertain Age

W. T. Oliver has an old Bible which he is submitting to authorities in an effort to ascertain the exact age of the book.

Mr. Oliver was administrator for the estate of W. J. Glover, who died at Electra about 30 years ago. The old Bible was in the safe of a lumber office until Mr. Oliver brought it here Tuesday. The cover of the book is gone, and the edge of the pages are badly damaged by time. However, the peculiar spelling, type, and paper used indicates that there is real age connected with the Bible, which old experts in ancient books may solve.

Misses Nancy Nicklaus,

Editorials

WE ARE FOR JESTER

The News is strong for Beauford Jester, candidate for Governor. We reached this conclusion months ago, after seeing the various candidates line up in this race. We believe that the people of Randall county will make no mistake in casting their vote for Jester, who seems to be on his way into the Governor's office.

While it is generally believed that Rainey may lead in the first primary, it is certain that he cannot be elected Governor. Any one who is running on a platform of vindication has little chance for success. Even if Rainey should be elected, he could not get along with either the legislature or the people. That being the case Texas would have no governor.

Jester has shown a disposition to get along with all who are willing to do the right thing and to work for the welfare of the state. While chairman of the Board of Regents of the University of Texas, he showed great ability. He was not a member of the board when Rainey was fired.

Any successful governor must be able and willing to work with the legislature. Jester has that ability. We firmly expect to see Jester in the second primary, with Rainey getting his maximum vote from the radical element of the state in the first primary.

It is terrible to think that men who hold responsible positions in our government will use their office of authority to gyp the government and make fortunes out of war. As war investigations go on, more and more such cases are being revealed. It is well established that many manufacturers have made unreasonable profits from their war contracts; that some of our "Dollar per year men" were in government service for their own benefit, rather than the welfare of the nation; and some of our Congressmen were among the guilty who fleeced the people of the nation. No wonder then, when all this was going on, that CIO decided to "get theirs" while the getting was good. We paid a terrific price for victory with the lives and bodies of our young men; and we paid a terrific price in dollars and cents. Too many people throughout the world forget their patriotism when profits are concerned.

The publisher of every newspaper in Texas resents the accusations of some of the candidates that the newspapers are "bought off." In the first place there is not enough money in America to start to begin to buy up the newspapers; and in the second place, no one but a supreme jackass would want to "control" all of the newspapers. You will find a controlled press only under supreme dictatorship. If Texas falls for dictatorship, none of these blabbering candidates would be allowed to run for office. When you hear such pronouncements, just consider that the speaker would like to see just such state of affairs as a controlled press—with him as the supreme dictator. So long as America is free the press will be free. When you lose your right to think and talk as you please, you may expect a controlled press—and you won't like it.

OUTSIDE INTERFERENCE

When the people of other states, or in official capacity try to use their influence in political elections, look out. The people rebel.

Texas was the laughing stock of the nation during the Ferguson administration, but the people of Texas continued to elect the Fergusons.

National figures throughout the nation jumped, onto Rankin and Bilbo of Mississippi, and both were re-elected by the voters of that state.

Talmage of Georgia was elected for a fourth term as Governor, largely because a lot of people from the outside were trying to tell the people of Georgia how to vote.

The late President Roosevelt failed in his purge campaigns, and his determination to stack the Supreme Court, largely because the people resented being dictated to.

President Truman took a hand in the Montana primary and tried to re-elect Senator Burton K. Wheeler.

Labor Unions, Jimmie Roosevelt and a lot of reformers got together and defeated Wheeler. The isolationist stand of Wheeler, as deplorable as the nation saw it, counted little with the home voters.

The political battle was fought on domestic issues—like most other political battles are fought. If the President had stayed out of the race, Wheeler might have won. However, regardless of the group which defeated him, the nation is better off without him, excepting that Wheeler was sound as an opposition leader—and opposition is always a good thing in Democracy.

CIO is taking a hand in politics throughout the nation. However, this group has learned one valuable lesson—to stay in the background and let local people take the lead. In the present campaign, Homer P. Rainey is the fairy-god of the CIO.

In 1948 we shall have a battle royal in Texas. National leaders will do their best to defeat Pappy O'Daniel. If the experiences of past campaigns run true to form, the people of Texas will resent the interference of Walter Winchell, Drew Pearson, Mrs. Roosevelt and other reformers. If this group gets too active, Pappy may be given another six years in the Senate—and wouldn't that be a headache.

The Texas Supreme Court rendered a verdict which declared the solo session of the State Senate as illegal. Those who sponsored the session have some sort of satisfaction in the 5 to 4 decision of the court. The Chief Justice and three good lawyers joined in declaring the session was legal. But their opinion was overruled by five justices. As a result of this decision, the proposed September session will not be held. Governor Coke Stevenson refused to recognize the solo session, and did not submit his list of appointees. The session rejected only one appointee—Harry Crozier—but the courts upheld him and ruled that he was not ousted. The disgruntled senators will have to wait until the regular session next January to do anything about the appointees of the Governor.

For a man who is supposed to be highly educated and knows the difference between truth and falsehood, Dr. Homer P. Rainey kicks the truth around very carelessly. He has stated during the campaign that every member of the Board of Regents of the University of Texas is either a Republican, or one of those terrible Texas Regulars. We know only one member of the Board personally. That is David M. Warren, publisher of the Panhandle Herald. When Dr. Rainey brands Dave Warren as a Republican or a Texas Regular, he is not telling the truth, and he has not gone to the trouble to ascertain the truth. In other words, any voter in Texas who dares to oppose Rainey is either a Republican or a Texas Regular, according to the viewpoint of this deposed university president.

Former Governor Mariah Ferguson has approved the candidacy of Grover Sellers. This may make some voters for Sellers among the old line Ferguson followers, but will likewise drive many followers into the Jester camp for fear that Sellers might develop into another Jim Ferguson.

The only opponent of Senator Tom Connally who is making any fuss in this campaign has only high praise for the Senator. Why is he running? He thinks that Connally should be given a permanent place in the UNO organization. If this candidate is honest, why not go to the President, who makes such appointments. As a matter of fact it was rumored that Tom would be appointed to UNO, but if such an appointment was offered him, the Senator turned it down, and stated that he wanted to continue as Senator from Texas and chairman of the Foreign Relations committee where he believes he will be of greater service to the nation.

Candidates' platforms are funny. Just how much influence will a governor have in putting his platform into law? You must remember that the legislature passes the laws. The governor can only recommend. And if the governor is not a good leader, and have a wonderful amount of personality his recommendations are little heeded by the law makers. The News is for Beauford Jester because he is the best leader in the race for Governor, and has the happy faculty of getting along with people.

Homer P. Rainey thought he was pulling a good political stunt in filing complaint against the Texas Quality network. He got considerable newspaper publicity, but no immediate decision. By the time his complaint runs the gauntlet of Washington bureaus the race will be over, and Rainey will be soundly defeated.

For your information: The strike in the linotype plant continues. Our new linotype is now four months postponed from the November date of delivery. And in the meanwhile if any part of one of our two linotypes breaks, there is no way to get repairs. All of this because of a jurisdictional dispute.

When were the Allies fooled? When we thought Mihailovic was a great patriot and our friend, or when we thought he was a traitor? He was condemned and killed by court orders of his own people, the trial court refusing to hear American witnesses. Again, when were we wrong?

National Farm Safety Week is being observed. Most accidents are the result of carelessness, as we all so well recognize. Accidents cost time and money. It would be a good thing for the nation to stop and think about the little things which cause accidents, and do something to prevent them.

There are sure a lot of thugs running at large in Texas. (We have been reading about the candidates—what one says about the other). Politics have reached a pretty low ebb when candidates can talk only of the demerits of their opponents.

Most Texans have never seen a copy of the book, "USA." Now that it has been thoroughly aired in this campaign a lot of people want to take a look at it—for curiosity sake, perhaps.

The biggest store in America was practically closed down because of a jurisdictional strike brought on by a few deliverymen. Such strikes are the height of utter foolishness. Why does the administration and Congress refuse to take adequate action on such questions?

"Would you mind settling your bill now, sir? We're closing the restaurant."

"But—I haven't been served!"
"In that case, sir, there'll only be the cover charge."

The Highland Club had a busy meeting revising their by-laws and getting them up to date.

The Club met in the home of Mrs. Ross Grantham. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. W. N. Cretzinger.

Roll call was answered by a bright idea. One of these was to paint the wall paper behind the cook stove with clear shellac, so that grease and dirt would not collect on the paper, and could be washed when dirty.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served by hostess to Mesdames George Cook, S. E. Brightwell, L. E. Mason and son Lee, Pearl Nesselroad, Temple Jarnigan, W. N. Cretzinger, Edd Sharp and Dianna and Eddie, A. N. Green, A. F. Moore, and Alma Jo, and a visitor, Mrs. Hash.

PENNINGTON-EWTON VOWS SAID JULY 12 IN AMARILLO

Miss Lola Faye Pennington of Amarillo and Homer Gene Ewton of Amarillo were married in Amarillo Friday evening, July 12. Dr. A. D. Foreman, Jr. read the double ring service in the Blackburn-Shaw Memorial Chapel.

Music for the ceremony was furnished by Mrs. R. W. Helney, organist of the First Baptist Church, H. A. Shaw, vocalist, and Glenn A. Truax, band director of West Texas State College.

The bride was attired in a white slipper satin gown, designed with a high round neckline and long fitted sleeves. Her finger-tip length veil of imported bridal illusion fell from a coronet of flowers and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid and showered with white satin ribbons.

Miss Wanda Pennington attended her sister as maid of honor. Merle Clement Ewton was his brother's best man.

Mrs. Ewton was graduated from Shamrock High School and has been employed at Amarillo Army Air Field for the past two years. Mr. Ewton was graduated from Shamrock High School and has recently been discharged from the Navy.

The couple will be at home in Houston, where the bridegroom is enrolled in Landig College of Mortuary Science.

CAROLYN BLACK ENTERTAINS FRIENDS MONDAY EVENING

The back yard of the W. C. Black home was the scene of a supper given by Miss Carolyn Black for some of her friends Monday evening. Mrs. Black was in charge of the food preparations. After the supper, the girls were guests of Miss Black for a movie in Amarillo.

Fried chicken, baked beans, potato salad, fruit salad, deviled eggs, sliced tomatoes, pickles, olives, hot rolls, iced tea, cherry sundaes and chocolate cake were served to Misses Polly Winstead, Jane Campbell, Shirley Harrell, Anita Davis, and the hostess. Invited but unable to attend were Misses Evelyn Black, Martha Hannah Hammond, and Martha Jean Dowd.

RUBY HALES ENTERTAINS ZITA 4-H MEMBERS

Refreshments were served to Anita, Nelda, and Noradell Ruthardt, Carol and Flora Jane Rose, Jane and Martha Hales, Miss Patterson, Mrs. Forest Gruner, and the hostess, Ruby Hales.

Sen. Hickenlooper, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, made the Senators laugh: "In defense of the OPA, Mr. President, I will say that they can be efficient and they can act with speed on occasions. Recently when they found out it was no longer necessary to control the price of sleigh bells in Hawaii, they promptly decontrolled them."

"Pardon me, but have you the correct time?" "Don't keep any artificial time, mister. It's jest milkin' time and I don't pretend to be no statistician. If you're a city day-light-savin' man you kin do yer own addin', subtractin' or multipliyin'."

Speech Professor On Campus; Fall Program Planned

PROF. CRANNELL TOLLIVER

Professor Crannell Tolliver, who holds a B. A. degree from Oklahoma Baptist University and an M.A. from the University of Kansas, will become associate professor of speech here next fall.

Professor Tolliver was on the campus Tuesday, at which time he and Dr. Freed planned an enlarged and enriched program for the coming year. The program includes the resumption of radio speech, stagecraft, radio drama, and general drama courses. If conditions permit, a course which will qualify the college to participate in intercollegiate debates is to be offered. The enlargement of the teaching staff will enable the department to teach at least four sections of Speech 101, Fundamentals of Speech on a Monday, Wednesday, Friday schedule.

Prof. Tolliver, with his wife, and eighteen year old daughter and young son come to Canyon from Saginaw, Michigan where he has been an instructor in the Arthur Hill High School.

Prior to this position he taught at the Texas Military Academy at Terrell. At present Prof. Tolliver is attending the University of Denver where he is doing work on a higher degree.

Of his assistant Dr. Freed states, "Professor Tolliver comes here highly recommended by his former associates. He is widely known in Saginaw for his 'Bandrama,' an annual musical-vaudeville production which he arranges and directs, and for which he furnishes many of the lyrics."

Romantic Niagara Falls has long been the mecca of newlyweds. Now comes that upstart of an artificial waterfall, Grand Coulee Dam, with plans to install elaborate accommodations to attract tourists. LAMENT
I loath the water, I hate the sand,
The sunbleached miles of listless land.
But men and beaches go hand-in-hand,
And this vacation I'll get a man,
I said . . .
Counting joys at two week's close
I list: Excruciating disposure.
Stringy topknot, Sand-torn toes.
A sickening, loberish, peeling nose
Instead . . .
We feel as out of place at a tea party as would a woodpecker in a petrified forest.

Notes From County H. D. Agent

July 21-27 is National Farm Safety Week. In proclaiming this week President Truman specifically requested that farm people over the nation observe the week by resolving to eliminate at least one hazard a day until their farms are as safe as they can possibly make them.

Around the house may be found many causes of accidents. Some of these that are most common are the use of loose rugs on slick floors; knives, scissors, and other sharp instruments in easy reach of small children; poisons placed where children or careless adults may get them by mistake; loose or uneven steps; toys scattered over the floor at night, etc.

Outside watch for nails left sticking up in boards; bits of broken glass; bits of wire in which a person may trip; and garden tools left lying on the ground.

While no home is likely to have all these hazards, too many homes have some of them or others that are equally dangerous. Let's co-operate with the President's request and save unnecessary accidents by looking for and correcting anything about the farm that might cause some one to be hurt.

The sweating motorcycle cop forced the speeding car to the side of the road. Mopping his brow he said, in his super-sarcastic voice:

"You think you're flying the mail—I ought to ask you for your pilot's license."

Whereupon the youthful driver produced his civilian pilot's license. The flabbergasted cop told the pilot to be on his way—but to watch his speed.

County Commissioner, Precinct No. 3

I wish to thank the voters of Precinct No. 3 for their splendid co-operation while I have served as your Commissioner.

I am grateful to have no opponent this year and trust that this means I have given satisfactory service, as I have always tried to do. I hope you will vote on July 27.

Early days in Texas are described by Mike Campbell of Stamford, well-known newspaperman:

"My maternal grandparents settled at Dresden, Navarro County, in 1844, on land granted them by the Republic of Texas. Our family still has that old document with Anson Jones' signature. The settlers made annual trips to Houston, in wagons drawn by oxen, for supplies, usually taking two months to make the round trip. There was not a fence between Dresden and Houston, except rail and brush fences around small fields and corrals.

"In those days, wild horses, cattle and wolves roved over the prairies. Prairie chickens were plentiful.

"My grandfather owned a slave who made all the shoes and boots. Cowhides were of the utmost use in the early days. They furnished shoes, harness, bull whips, chair bottoms and hinges for doors; and sometimes vessels for carrying water were made of leather.

"The Meltons were also early settlers in that section. Ethan Melton married my grandfather's sister. My great uncle, John Welch, told me of the Battle of San Jacinto, and the capture of Santa Anna. He related: "Deaf Smith and I had been looking after some pack mules, and as we walked up to where General Houston lay, some of the boys led up a Mexican, dressed in the uniform of a private, facing the general. The Mexican made a sign with his hand and General Houston answered with his hand. About that time, some other Mexican prisoners exclaimed, 'El Presidente! El Presidente!' Then we knew we had Santa Anna."

"Nestling in a little valley north of old Dresden lies the Melton cemetery, fringed with wild plum and persimmon thickets. There sleep pioneers, including my maternal grandparents. The song of the mockingbird may be heard in the stately elms but no more do the mournful houl of the timber wolf and the haunting notes of the horned owl boom out in the dark hours of the night. Yes, in North America, frontiers have vanished forever."

"So he offered to make you a present of a live turkey?"

"Yep; he said it was mine for the axing."

Unique Series of Ads on Southwest History Starts Today

"The Old Santa Fe Trail" will be featured in the first of a series of advertisements about famous Southwestern trails by The Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation and independent Shamrock dealers which begin in this issue.

The stories of the trails have been written by noted Southwestern authors, historians and professors who have become famous for their writings of our early Southwest. Harold Bugbee, Southwestern artist from Clarendon, Texas who has done many colorful, authoritative illustrations for Shamrock advertising in the past, will depict the various scenes along the trails for the whole series.

Under the pen name of Stanley Vestal, Professor Walter S. Campbell, director of courses in professional writing at the University of Oklahoma, has written the narrative about the Santa Fe Trail. He also has written many books including "The Old Santa Fe Trail," "Dobe Walls," "Kit Carson" and "Sitting Bull" which have been nationally read. A native of Kansas, Stanley Vestal attended college at Southwestern State, Weatherford, Oklahoma and was the first Rhodes Scholar from the State of Oklahoma to attend Oxford in England. He is in the Oklahoma Hall of Fame, is a member of the Society of American Historians and is now completing research for the Rockefeller Foundation.

The Illustrator, Bugbee, is at his best in this series and he has become recognized as an authority on early Southwestern scenes having done much research with famous old trail blazers who have since passed on. His work includes portraits of famous pioneers, illustration for many western books and magazines, murals and popular western scenes for Christmas cards.

Other trail stories to follow in this paper will be "The Goodnight Trail" by Evetts Haley, Canyon, who is a cowman, historian and author of "Charles Goodnight, Cowman and Plainsman"; "The Arkansas River Route" by LeRoy Hafen, Denver, Colorado, State Historian of Colorado and author of "Routes to the Gold Fields"; "The National Trail" by F. B. Streeter, Fort Hays, Kansas, Librarian, Kansas State College and author of "Prairie Trails and Towns"; "The Western Trail" by Col. Jack Potter, Clayton, New Mexico, writer and pioneer who grew up on Southwestern trails; "The Tascosa-Ft. Dodge Trail" by John McCarty, newspaperman and author of "Maverick Town," a story about Old Tascosa, which will be released soon.

World Awaits Second Test of Atomic Bomb

By WALTER A. SHEAD
WNU Correspondent.

ABOARD USS APPALACHIAN OPERATIONS CROSSROADS. — Second or Baker test of the atomic bomb in Bikini lagoon, now tentatively set for July 25, will be like dynamiting fish in a pond.

Lacking will be the glamour of the army air force and precision bombing as the whole thing will be a navy show. The bomb will be submerged some 75 feet beneath the surface in about 30 fathoms of water, 180 feet, and detonated in the midst of the target fleet, which is being regrouped to meet new conditions of the test.

This second test also will lack the drama of the bomb burst and the atomic cloud, which is characteristic of atomic bombs exploded in air. What is likely to happen is that the intense heat will generate steam in the water and the terrific force will expend a part of its energy in a waterspout with a cloud of steam and vapor shooting into the air. Intent of this test is to measure force of atomic energy upon the hull structure of naval ships spaced at various distances from the center of the explosion.

Subs to Submerge.

There will not be the visible damage which was inflicted wholly upon the topsides or superstructures as in the first blast. Since there is to be no ship placed directly above the point of blast, the prediction is being made freely that no capital ships will be sunk, although lighter craft may be capsized. Another feature of the second blast is the placing of submerged submarines in the target fleet, and it will be interesting to note the effect of the bomb force upon the steel hulls of these vessels beneath the water.

Naval scientists predict that force of the underwater blast will create waves of sufficient height, possibly 10 or more feet which will sweep over low-lying Bikini island, although this was also forecast in the first blast and did not materialize.

Meantime, endless arguments proceed as to the degree of damage to the ships, the location of the bomb burst, whether the drop from the plane was a "near miss," probable loss of life had the ships been manned with full complement, and comparative efficiency of this first Bikini bomb as compared to the bombs at Alamogordo, Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Precision Bombing.

When it is considered that this bomb was dropped from a height of something like six miles and hit within a 1,000-yard circle, this reporter would consider that pretty good precision bombing.

Adm. T. A. Solberg of the bureau of ships, however, declared that insofar as he could judge, every ship damaged by the bomb, with the exception of the Independence, could be put into fighting shape within two or three months.

For the Independence, battered and ripped apart by explosions of her own torpedoes, her ammunition and aviation gasoline and burning for almost two days, it would take about nine months to put her in shape.

Also all ships damaged, with the single exception of the Independence, towed away and anchored far out in the lagoon, likely could have pulled away under their own steam, had they been manned with crews.

Study Effects.

In the meantime, Bikini lagoon has been turned into a vast laboratory of science, chief interest being the effect of the bomb and its subsequent radiological rays upon the live animals placed aboard the ships at various locations likely to be occupied by the men aboard. Amazingly, only about 10 per cent of the animals were killed by the force of the blast. Some are burned and sick and others may become ill from effects of radioactivity. As a matter of fact, a few already have been destroyed by medical doctors, who are studying this phase of atomic energy in an effort to determine how this radioactivity can be used in medicine in treatment of disease.

Persons or animals which receive these powerful rays into their systems are variously affected and the boarding teams upon these ships are preceded by a train man carrying a "Geiger counter," a small box-like apparatus which registers radioactivity by a ticking noise.

Estimate Losses.

A fleet such as those which composed the target fleet would normally carry approximately 30,000 men. It is reasonable to assume then that approximately 10 per cent, or 3,000 men, would have been killed by the atomic bomb blast and that more would have been injured by radioactivity. Whether much of the damage to ships caused by subsequent fires aboard could have been averted had crews been aboard is a moot question. Some ships captains declare that damage would have been much less had the ship fire-fighting equipment been brought into play, and this seems reasonable in that most of the loss on the Independence was due to fire and explosion and not the bomb blast.

There is no attempt however on the part of naval authorities to minimize the terrible power of this atomic bomb. No other single bomb ever did the damage to a fleet that this one did . . . five ships sunk, one completely out of commission and approximately 10 others out of action for two months or longer, and small to negligible damage done to 10 others.

However, another atomic bomb likely would not find 73 ships to make up a helpless ghost fleet grouped conveniently like sitting ducks and whether use of the atomic bomb as an offensive weapon of naval warfare upon ships at sea is militarily sound still is a debated question and one which the naval evaluation board will study during the next few weeks or months.

It must be remembered that whatever is said about this second bomb test before the actual test is in the realm of conjecture, and much of the conjecture made prior to the first test did not materialize.

Arkansas May Be Second Target Ship

Target ship, or vessel nearest center of the blast, for the second atomic bomb test may be the overage battleship Arkansas, it has been indicated by reliable sources although no definite announcement has been made by Adm. W. H. P. Blandy, commander of operations crossroads and the joint task force. The carrier Saratoga was first slated to be second target ship.

An interesting sidelight on fate of the Saratoga, which suffered only negligible damage in the first test, is that her commander, Capt. Donald MacMahon, knowing that she was slated for the second target ship made a wager with a friend in Washington, before bringing the ship to Bikini, that he would take her back to the East coast under her own power. It looks now that he has better than a 50-50 chance of winning his bet.

MRS. R. A. BURRUS LEADS H. D. CLUB DISCUSSION

An interesting article taken from Holland's Magazine, "This For That" was read by Mrs. R. A. Burrus when West Side Home Demonstration Club met in Thompson's Club Room, July 17. Here are some of the suggestions:

If you add two or three table-spoons of very hot water to your cake batter and beat it thoroughly just before baking, it will be more light and tender.

Use a dish mop dipped in liquid wax to clean bed springs. It will collect all dust, and will also prevent rusty springs.

Give the tape of your Venetian blinds a coat or two of white shoe polish when it becomes soiled. This will make it look new.

Rub your shoes with cloth that you have used to wax your floors. You will get a lovely shine that will protect the leather and one that will last.

Corn meal makes an excellent cleaner for a brush and comb. Sprinkle the corn meal on the bristles of the brush and then run the comb through the bristles until the brush and comb are clean. Rinse well.

Slip a curtain rod through the bottom hem of curtain to keep them from blowing in and out when the window is raised. This gives a smart "French window" effect, saves wear and tear and many launderings.

Energizer, gasoline and spot remover were named as cleaning agents at roll call.

"A Smile is a Funny Thing" was the song sung.

Council report was given by the president.

Those present were Mesdames: J. W. Bourn, C. E. Head, Joe Baber, Ruby Davis, E. W. Bourn, J. J. Wright, W. C. Roberts, R. A. Burrus, and John Bryan.

The next meeting will be Sept. 4 at Mrs. P. H. Baber's.

EIGHT MEMBERS ATTEND 4-H CLUB MEETING

The Centerville 4-H meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Edna Wilson. There were eight present: Etta Gene Sharpes, Mary Wise, Annabelle Schaeffer, Mona Beth Gillham, Nelda Gillham, and the sponsors, Vesta Amerson, Evelyn Schaeffer, and one visitor, Mary Alice Brazil.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Anabelle Schaeffer.

Miss Claudine Foster is visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Foster. Miss Foster is in Nurses' Training at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rogers from Amarillo visited the Mark Fosters Sunday. Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Foster are sisters.

Unusual War Friendship Continues Into Politics

JOHN HARDAWAY

Among the most enthusiastic supporters of Roland Black, candidate for sheriff of Randall county in the current political campaign, is his friend and comrade, John Hardaway.

The friendship of these two men is based on something more than casual acquaintance and mutual interests. It is a friendship sealed in battle, in mutual dangers shared in North Africa on the beach at Salerno and in two months fighting at Casino.

Black and Hardaway served together in the army from April 1, 1941, until Feb. 6, 1944. They went overseas in Company E, 142nd Infantry, 36th division.

Black was a first lieutenant then, later promoted to captain on the strength of his battlefield experience. Hardaway was a tech sergeant. The difference in rank did not interfere with their friendship.

Black had entered the army as a private. He never attended officer candidate school, but received his first commission directly for exceptional merit.

The friends were separated momentarily when Black was wounded at Casino and removed to a hospital. Three days later Hardaway got both legs shot off in the same battle. They met again in a convalescent hospital in the States.

Black is a native of Canyon and, except for the time in the army, has lived there 30 years. Hardaway lived in Dumas before the war and moved to Canyon on receiving his discharge. He was awarded the silver star for gallantry.

Hardaway has artificial legs now, and except for a slight limp you'd never know they weren't real. He gets about on them almost as if real—enough to travel over the county in the interest of his friend's campaign for sheriff.

Candidate for COUNTY JUDGE
and
Ex-Officio School Superintendent

Canyon, Texas
July 23, 1946.

To Citizens of Randall County:

You are aware from previous announcements that I am asking you for your endorsement for another term as County Judge, if you could decide my work and efforts are worthy of continuing. Information leaks in once and awhile, "why choose a has been," when we might have a more aggressive person abreast of the times. That is a weighty question for the reason we want the best obtainable for our homes, our community, our state and nation.

This is laudable and worthy but who is wise enough to know where ideal types may be secured? When one characteristic shines with dazzling brilliance it is possible that it is affected by weakness that are humiliating to know the complete personality. I know in my case I have been here sometime but not so fumbly and not so much of a moss-back that I can't reason from cause to effect on practical logical problems; and if one's hair becomes frosted and grizzly some valuable truths, anywhere and time, may be stored beneath. I had rather possess the hair, any color, than none. I have always rejoiced that I did not need a string around my forehead to know how high to go to wash my face.

The founders of our nation were prudent, foreseeing experienced type of men that had observed that human characteristics were such that over periods, servants of our government should give an accounting of their stewardship, from the lowest to the highest in the land. It has stimulated zeal and industry; emulating clean honest action from Constable to President. But linens can be soiled; as many records trailed in the dust by reason of careless thoughtless sentiment; and erroneous attitudes that if others can put up with this policy, I can too, and neglect to exercise one of the highest privileges a free Government can give, the right and privilege of suffrage. I fear the habit is on the increase if we can't get or make choice of what we want.

Election dates in times past were events. We hear no more mention of the boys from the forks of the creeks, while this could have been a derogatory term, it signifies unity that means accomplishments. Some time ago I read this story. A mixed age group was talking along this line. Tom Glover turned to an elderly man, "Uncle Bill I expect you have experienced some close, exciting contests in the public; choosing its winners, cite us an instance." "Well, Tom, one of the hottest races I can recall was when we elected Jno. C. Freemont, President." All stared with astonishment. One gentleman broke the spell. "But Uncle Bill, Jno. C. Freemont was never president." "He wasn't, why I heard a feller say in a speech just before election, if Jno. C. Freemont weren't elected this nation would go to pieces—and I waited quite a spell—and nothin' happened, so I thought Freemont was elected, By Jinks, and Jno. C. Freemont lost out."

While the world is full of error and puffed up with pride but tension is relaxed when a beam of humor breaks through. Ludicrous happenings and incidents is one of our most dependable restoratives. Even aspirants for public office have their worries while our behavior leads to conjecture they are care-free optimists. But weigh their application thoughtfully. When we used to trade horses we studied their qualities and suitedness to the purpose to the job to be performed and chose accordingly. If we found our choice sound we batted up banter to swap for a time. All the candidates are in the trading ring dependent on your judgment of their suitedness to place to be filled.

I have kept busy trying to give service that would be commensurate with confidence reposed in me to guard and advance the welfare of the County. If I am fortunate enough to have your approval of my past administration, I promise same brand of loyal service. I am duly grateful for past support and ask your endorsement for another term.

Sincerely,

A. H. HUNT,
County Judge

HOGS

In the heyday of the New Deal, Wallace made a partial failure of exterminating the hog population of the nation by killing most of them. But there was some hog seed left, which now appears to show a failure of the New Deal policies. So in order to prove that the New Deal was right the present administration has centered on a much surer plan to exterminate the hog. This plan is to force all hogs on the market immediately, or let them starve to death on the farms. But don't sell the Democratic party short you benighted Texans, but rally to its colors and learn to eat vegetables if you can grow them and corn bread as a luxury.

Upside Down Cake Is Tops

THE appeal of an upside down cake is its surprise attributes, for it may offer a different fruit flavor every time or a combination of flavors. Both pineapple and apricot are favorites, but have you tried sliced canned peaches? These add delicacy to the cake illustrated above.

Cooked dried fruits make excellent and inexpensive toppings, using one or two of a miscellany of apricots, prunes or figs, pears, nectarines and apple rings. A delicious combination is achieved by using halves of canned pears filled with halves of canned figs, filling the spaces between the pears with figs cut in a size to fit.

Most recipes for upside down cake stress a moderate or slow oven, which means either 350 or 300 degrees, the lower temperature naturally requiring a longer period. When a modern gas range does the baking, its heat control maintains such an accurate, even temperature that the cake bakes perfectly without watching or turning in the oven.

The Old Santa Fe Trail

By STANLEY VESTAL

Norman, Oklahoma

Member of the Society of American Historians, author of "The Old Santa Fe Trail"

During more than half a century, thousands of big prairie schooners, powered by their rolling oxen or long-eared Missouri mules, carried goods manufactured in the States to Santa Fe. From the woodlands of Missouri over the boundless buffalo pastures of Western Kansas, the high plains of Oklahoma, Colorado, and New Mexico they rolled, winding at last through red Apache Canyon to the City of the Holy Faith. Along those endless rutted, bootied bullwhacker and mule-skinners, trappers in fringed buckskins, blue-coat soldiers, and traders in high beaver hats chased herds of shaggy buffalo, fought painted warriors circling on their nimble ponies, dickered with swarthy Mexican customs officers and traders. Then they came rolling home again, their wagons groaning under heavy bales of buffalo robes, kegs of gold bullion, and bar silver. That two-way trail was the highway to adventure, quick riches, and the exotic pleasures of a foreign town.

It was a long, slow, uphill journey of 800 miles, whether the wagon master led his caravan upriver from the Crossing of the Arkansas past the adobe walls of Bent's Old Fort to the Raton Pass through the mountains, or—setting his course by compass—dared the shorter, more dangerous jornada through the trackless Cimarron Desert.

Along this trail Kit Carson first showed the power of Colt's revolvers to raiding Kiowas, General Stephen Watts Kearny led his Army of the West to win California in the Mexican War, and gold-seekers pushed on to the diggings. Across it Dull Knife's Cheyennes fought their way to freedom.

But times changed. Bent deliberately blew his big trading post to smithereens, the buffalo vanished, the Indians went on reservations, American settlers moved in. Towns sprang up, and wagon trains rumbled no more to Santa Fe.

Cafeteria to Have Special Features

Architect's drawings of the college cafeteria, now under construction on the land adjoining the Student Union, show the building to contain several features designed to increase its value to students.

The main dining room of the cafeteria will seat 400 people at one time and those familiar with cafeteria management say that 1600 people can be served during the noon period of usual length.

The main dining room of the 176 foot building will provide a spacious and comfortable meeting place for many organizations during each college year. It will be ideal for the annual banquet of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society. It will make it possible to serve large groups of high school visitors of Future Farmers of America visitors, and Future Homemakers, as well as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, service clubs, women's clubs and all similar organizations which wish to meet on the college campus.

In addition to the main dining room, there are private dining rooms which will accommodate from forty to fifty diners. It is expected that these will be in almost constant use by campus organizations and by groups of visitors.

Another attractive feature of the cafeteria is found in two club rooms which have been provided, and in the spacious lounges which are included in the plan.

The service features of the cafeteria will be attractive and complete. There is a refrigerator room forty-two feet long which will provide ample storage for all perishable foods. Other storage space will provide for foods not requiring refrigeration. There is even a room in which to dispose of crates in which foods are received.

Adjacent to the kitchen is an office for the college dietitian. Here meal plans will be worked out and the work of the cafeteria staff will be directed.

Two types of floor surface will be found in the cafeteria. Terrazzo floors like those in the main corridor of the Administration Building will be used in part of the building and composition tile will be the floor covering for the remainder.

Ceilings are to be of acoustical plaster which will reduce the noise in the building and add much to the comfort of dining there.

Under present plans, a grand opening of the cafeteria will be a feature of the 1946 homecoming on October 26.

When the cafeteria gets into full operation, dining rooms in the dormitories will be discontinued and the space which they occupy will be arranged to meet other needs.

Boyce House Is Far In Lead For Lieut. Governor

FORT WORTH—With all polls giving Boyce House a long lead in the race for Lieutenant Governor, House's headquarters here said today that such a strong trend has set in for him that there is a likelihood of his winning without a runoff.

The Belden poll recently gave House a substantial margin in the race. Jim Carroll of the Houston Press, after a statewide tour, reported House far in front, and Lewis Nordsyke in a political analysis in the Amarillo Globe-News said he was the strong leader in all sections.

Since the polls were taken, sentiment for House has been growing by leaps and bounds. The latest development in his favor is the knocking out of a law which would have prevented 100,000 elderly citizens from voting because they lived in towns of 10,000 or more and had not renewed their exemption certificates. House will receive the large majority of these 100,000 votes because of his clear-cut stand in favor of paying the full $40 per month in old age assistance and removing the ceiling.

Hats Off to this Fellow...

HE fed us, our soldiers, our allies, and a lot of other people while we won a war. Now he's asked to keep the world from starving.

He's the American farmer.

He deserves the thanks and appreciation of everybody. He deserves it more than most folks realize because he increased his production by 30 per cent in five years without enough new tools to replace the labor he lost.

But, American farmers are disappointed—and they have a right to be. They expected that the end of the war would bring them an opportunity to replace their patched, repaired, weary and over-worked farm implements.

Of all of our shortages, that in farm tools and implements is the most serious.

Strikes have caused the shortages in farm implements—strikes in steel, strikes in coal, and strikes in the farm implement industry itself.

In the steel industry alone, the production of steel in the ten months following VJ day was 19 million tons short of expectations, enough to supply farm needs for at least five years. Most of the decline was due to strikes.

That is why the steel industry has not been able to catch up with the demand for new roofing, wire, fencing, tools and all the things of steel needed on the farm.

That is why the farmer is being penalized through no fault of his own. This nation cannot move ahead under the threat of ever-recurring labor strife.

Steel mills need all the scrap iron and steel they can get. Farmers can help increase steel output by sending worn-out machinery, etc., on its way to the furnaces. AMERICAN IRON AND STEEL INSTITUTE, 350 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, N. Y.

The Institute has printed a booklet STEEL SERVES THE FARMER. Write for a copy and it will be sent gladly.
